“ I knew Danny when he was a small boy, but I moved away and didn't see him again until I moved back to Carlisle in the 80s. That's when I really got to know him better. He always greeted me with a welcoming smile and a big howdy-do. He was quick witted and a straight shooter. If he told you something, you could take it to the bank. Gonna miss my friend! My Deepest Sympathy to the family.

“ Danny became my friend late in his life but always made me feel welcome. One thing I knew when he said something he meant it. You will be missed my friend and know I was proud to be your adopted brother.
