“ Sue's family and mine were close friends when we young. We reconnected in high school and she was my first sweetheart. We lost touch after high school and only reconnected over 50 years later, when she reached out to me on Facebook just a few months ago. We shared our life stories and I had hoped maybe we might meet up again at some point. I will always have very fond memories of her and feel comfort that she is in a good place. Rest well my friend.
