“ One of my most favorite things when I was little was the fall festival at Cane Ridge school. He and Mamaw would always take me and the other grandkids to it. Papaw be playing Bingo all night and Mamaw would play the cake walk. He come home with random prizes and she come home with a bunch of random cakes. After everything was over, all the grandkids that went would stay the out at their house, snacking on the cakes and playing with whatever papaw won at bingo.
